A year is a year is a year. And every year it seems like going back to school means routines, schedules and classes. But at Holmes, this was not the case in '83.

The beginning of the '83 school year marked major changes on campus. The newly constructed computer room and cable television station brought physical and educational changes to Holmes, adding new dimension in learning and spirit for its students.

External changes weren't the only ones. Behind the Gothic walls, students sensed a new atmosphere. A fresh wave of Bulldog pride and spirit dominated the campus along with a renewed interest in studies. Most students began to contemplate seriously their place in the future.

Changing, growing and building—at Holmes that's what this year was all about. From the campus, to the spirit, to the students—we're breaking ground . . .

WE'RE BUILDING FUTURES . . .

BUILDING THE STUDENT SCENE

STUDENT LIFE

Springing Into Action

Spring is a time of change. Outdoor activity begins anew after the long winter. Holmes is no exception. After football in the fall and basketball in the winter, a change is welcome here in the spring. Spring offers a wide variety of sports for both boys and girls: Track, baseball, softball, tennis, and golf keep the students' spring busy.

Track gives athletes a chance to test speed, strength, and endurance. Boys' track coach, Mr. Tony Gruelle, was looking for a strong season mainly due to his excellent distance runner Don Overstreet. Miss Leslie Miller, girls' track coach, also had high hopes because of fine distance runners Vonda Jump and Diane Mersch. Both coaches remarked that the new track, plus the fact that Holmes had its 1st invitational meet, would make 1983 a fine season.

Tennis offers both individual and team play. Recent years have been good for boys' and girls' tennis. For boys' coach Mr. Spurlock, Peter Glenn, who finished 3rd in the Scott Invitational last year, was his only serious loss. Coach Ken Spurlock looked for a good season from John Drees, Bob Spenlau, and Tyler Scott. Girls' coach Mr. Bob Lynch, who experienced a winning season in his first year as coach, had senior Tonya Stephenson and Carrie Drees returning. Tonya, who won a very exciting upset tie-breaker match against a Highlands opponent, provided leadership for another good season.

Baseball, a team sport that requires great individual skills, has enjoyed great popularity in recent years. Last year was no exception. The Bulldogs, lacking some experience due to the loss of several key players the previous year, were led by senior Mark Jump and junior Randy Jackson. This year's team hoped to fare better under new Coach Steve Bull because of valuable experience picked up last year. The Bulldogs held their own behind seniors Randy Jackson, Greg Thornsburg, and Dwight Wells.

Student life is full of fashions, high points and low points. The big fashion this year was the preppie look. Many students wore Izod shirts, designer jeans and the latest twist, specialized shoelaces. Colors were no longer enough; now it was pictures on shoelaces—alligators, tennis racquets and rainbows, just to name a few. A few other big crazes were the dreaded "valley girls" with that language all their own, Walkmans and "jam boxes" appearing all over school.

Holmes students took their Izods and their ghetto blasters into 1982-83 with many happenings to look forward to. As always, there was Homecoming with its parade, dance and mums for your sweetheart. Spirit days, when we got to wear crazy hats, sunglasses and other weird eyecatchers, came next. And, of course, the old stabilizers, Christmas and spring vacations, kept us in our right minds during low times in school. Students thought of these after the Monday morning bell, during those long winter fire drills, while sitting staring at a 20 page typing assignment, or especially while eating in the cafeteria.

No matter what we did or didn't look forward to, student life is pretty good. Whether your'e a senior going to the dinner dance or a sophomore looking for a way to go anywhere, few schools have what Holmes has to offer. Holmes offers students participation in at least seven different sports and numerous clubs or organizations. The renovation of the football field and the addition of the cable T.V. studio are just two new additions in our favor. With the wide selection and new additions, students, in their own way, are building their own scenes.

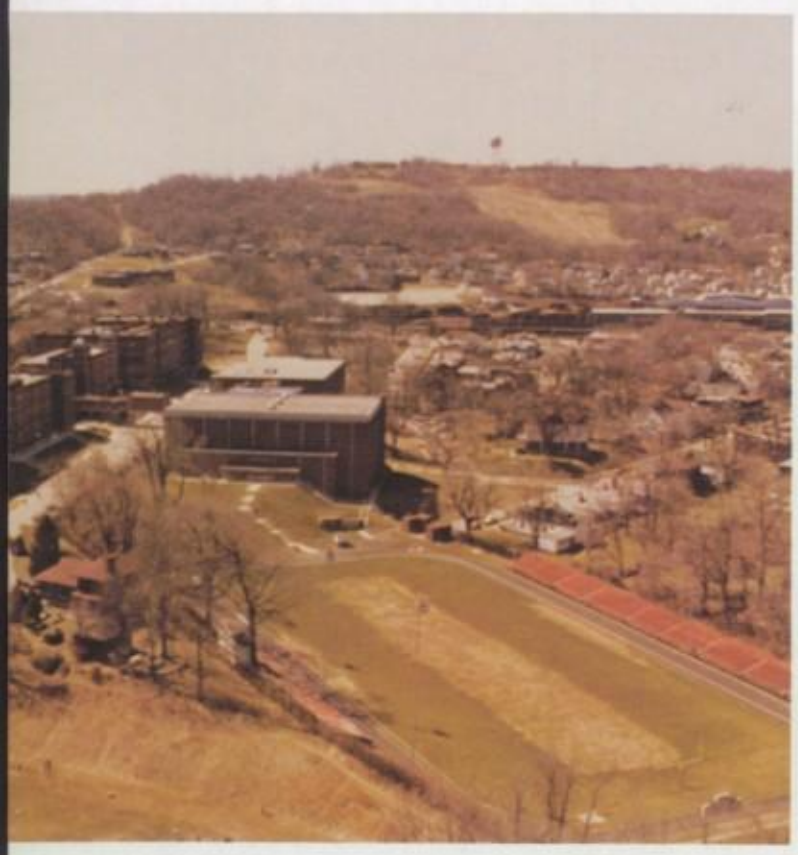
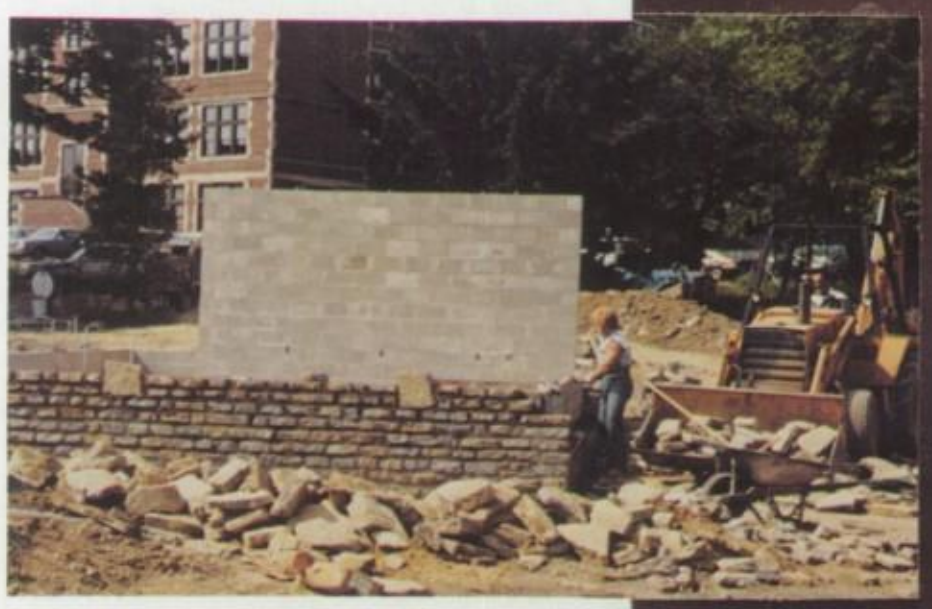
"Earthshaking Moving Day"





The roar of bulldozers and jackhammers rumbled through the campus while the biggest renovation in Holmes' history took place last spring and summer. It was "moving day" for the old stadium. The rebuilt stadium complex, dedicated to former coach Tom B. Ellis, accommodates 3,000 spectators. The $700,000 project was a joint effort by the Covington Board of Education, the Covington City Commission and the Kenton County Fiscal Court.

After months of planning, construction and renovation, the sports and recreational complex was dedicated on a rainy August 20th, before a 6-0 victory over Ludlow. When asked what they thought about the complex, Mr. Hina and Mr. Logsdon simultaneously agreed, "It's the best."

Commencement marks the end of a high school student's school life, but the real meaning of commencement is "beginning." The spring event that all seniors anxiously look forward to sends the graduates out into the real world in pursuit of their dreams.

On May 22, 1982, amid the tears and applause of proud parents and friends, thoughts of the future and their place in it ran through the graduates' minds as Mr. Thurman Owens, a retired Brigadier General, spoke to the students.

School is not just a constant grind. For those brief but important moments of relaxation, everyone has their favorite spot. Whether it be to just talk, sign annuals, or to whisper sweet nothings in someone special's ear, students welcome these breaks in the everyday routine.

"Sweet Dreams Came True"

Early evening, April 3rd, 1982. Hundreds of households became mini-madhouses as nervous, but well-dressed, juniors and seniors took final looks in mirrors and basked in the glow of praise from smiling, proud parents, friends and relatives. Jumping into a variety of cars, from ramshackle Mustangs to elegant limousines, they rolled toward the Thomas More campus determined to enjoy one of the most memorable nights of their young lives.

Afterwards, most of them would admit that the prom lived up to its promise. The prime rib dinner, dancing to the pulsing music of "The Flyers," the blue and silver stars, clouds and streamers that led to a circular staircase all captured the romance of this special night.

Capping the evening's excitement, '81's royal couple, Mindy McDavid and Gary Timmerding, crowned new Queen Janet Flesch and King Deron Ballinger. At the stroke of midnight, all the Cinderellas and their charming princes glided in their coaches to Erlanger's Superbowl where dancing continued amidst the clatter of flying bowling pins and beeps of electronic games. Around 5:00 A.M. (yawn), the now calm, not-so-well-dressed partyers headed home, looking for real "Sweet Dreams".

Pride, Character & Class Build Program

"The building of pride, character, and class into the football program, by the players, is the first step toward a future of successes at Holmes," stated Head Coach Bill Hina. "I was proud of our team because they showed good character and there was no bad play throughout the year. During the season, comments were made by referees, administration, and specatators concerning the fair play of the team and its much improved good sportsmanship."

Coach Hina found his first year as head coach to be enjoyable yet disappointing at times. Their major accomplishment was steadily improving through the year. The team was said to have been better than their disappointing record showed.

The main problem this year was an inability to score. However, with experienced offensive players returning next year, they hope to improve this area. On a good note, the defense kept the team alive throughout the season.

The Campbell Co. game highlighted the Bulldog season this year. According to Coach Hina it was "the best football game we played all year." With 306 yards gained, the Bulldogs dominated the game. Concluding, Coach Hina commented, "With pride, character, class, and the committment from players and the student body toward football, we should have a great football program here."

Outstanding players who will return include Larry Powell, John Simms, Barry Suedkamp and George Peters.

The Upcoming Athletes

Recruiting younger boys for football earlier will improve the reserve and varsity football teams, remarked Coach Soard on the theory of the 8th & 9th grade football programs. "The new program will definitely help. The more experience these kids get, the better they'll be when they reach varsity," commented 9th grade coach Soard.

The freshman football team ended their season with a 4-3 record. Two pluses made the team successful. One, the attitude of the players overall was positive. Two, with the help of outstanding players Jarrod Miller, Jim Smith, Nick Stenger, and Donnie Cheatum, it was a sure winner. The outstanding game of the season was against Campbell County, with the Bulldogs dominating the field, 22-0. Also, they showed great strength against Scott, winning by a margin of 20-6.

The Holmes High School bowling league is in its second year of co-ed bowling. The league consists of any Holmes students that wish to bowl. The league bowls on Mondays after school at the Bowlounge in Latonia. There are eleven teams that bowl three games each. The league bowled until the last week in March and ended with the headpin tournament and banquet in early April.

The sponsors for the league are Miss Leslie Miller and Mr. Steve Rehfuss. This year's top bowlers were, for the boys, Brett Dreyer, and for the girls, Theresa Shelton.

This years top series and games were a 547 series for Lori Collins and a 203 game by Theresa Shelton. For the guys the high series was 672 by Brett Dreyer and Deron Ballinger, and the high game was 267 by Dan Gillespie.

Cheri Reed keeps her eye on the lane as she concentrates on her bowling form.

Headed In The Right Direction

Although the 1982 Girls' Cross Country team had a poor record, the season was still successful for several reasons. One, for the first time the girls had a varsity and a reserve team. Two, this year's squad was very gutsy and showed a willingness to work. This, along with sixteen returnees, makes for a bright future, too.

"I was slightly disappointed with our fourth place regional finish, but our inexperience and Vonda Jump's injury hurt," explained Coach Jim Woolridge. Coach Woolridge feels that next year, with good off season work, a healthy Vonda and their many returning runners who lettered, it should be an excellent season. Their depth is bound to help in the future.

Coach Woolridge's closing remarks were, "The girls as individuals are outstanding people and students. Eleven of the sixteen are honor roll students. The team must be headed in the right direction."

The '82 Cross Country Dogpack was the most successful in the school's history, compiling an outstanding 164-17 record. They placed first in five out of eight meets. Along with their five tournament wins, they also were champions in the regional.

"This was the best team in our school's history! Our experience is beginning to pay off," proudly exclaimed Coach Lenny Ferguson. Dogpack '82 had ten returnees which gave them unusually good team experience. They were led by Don Overstreet, Logan Behanon, and Keith Suedkamp. Senior Don Overstreet will be a major loss to next year's team.

A Much Needed

Holmes' volleyball team ended its season with a record of 7-9, a big improvement from the previous year. Having new coaches, Julie Aker and Brenda Huenefeld, and different strategy played a big role in this improvement. Senior Vonnie Aker commented, "Having new coaches was a big change, but I think we adapted well to it."

There were many "ups" and "downs" during the season. In games with such teams as Holy Cross, Scott, and St. Henry, the girls played very competitively, but were defeated. Their most exciting experience was beating Simon Kenton in both the regular season and the Regionals.

Looking forward to the 1983 season, Coach Aker stated, "With Connie McClanahan and Mindy Egan leading the team, I expect both the team and record to improve again."

Lack of Grapplers Hurts

The wrestling team got off to a slow start due to injuries and people quitting because of the vigorous practices. "We lost to several teams due to a lack of wrestlers," remarked Coach Steve Bull. Holmes hosted its first wrestling invitational, which proved beneficial. Holmes took a respectable 4th place and walked away with five medals.

Lady Bulldogs Shoot To Regionals

"In our first season, Miss Maxine Thompson and I were extremely pleased with the effort and hustle of the team and also the support of the students throughout the season. Next year promises to be better, and we hope more students will back the Bulldogs," remarked Coach Jim Woolridge.

This year, the team's speed and desire led them to a winning season. The 14-11 record was exceptional, considering the lack of height and experience. Several highlights of the season were the win over a fine Lloyd basketball team, the entire district tournament, and the outstanding team effort in the final defeat against a strong Boone Co. team in the Regional.

The reserve basketball team had a good year. The team, led by guards Mike Beal and Ed Vance, was offense-oriented. Coach Ken Spurlock emphasized this by saying "We put a lot of points on the board." Young Champions Excel

The boys' 8th grade (A) basketball team ended with a championship 19-1 season. Beating Cov. Cath. at Cov. Cath. and beating Dixie twice were early highlights of the season. The team worked well together, had good practice attendance and with the desire to play, they improved greatly by the end of the year, taking the crown from Highlands by ten points in the regional tourney.

With a good attitude, the 9th grade team ended the season with a 16-7 record. Defeating Simon Kenton twice in the regular season really stood out among the other games of the season. Outstanding players were Doug Rabe, Donnie Cheatum, the best offensive player, and Doug Jones, the leading rebounder.

Determination, Heart & Soul Surprise

"The team worked very hard. I felt the team morale was high for the most part," remarked Coach Robert Lynch when asked if he was pleased with his '82 girls' tennis team. Since the '82 season was the first for all but two players, the group was inexperienced but played exceptionally well.

The team lost only Sue Armstrong to graduation, so the '83 team was much more experienced. The leading players from '82 were Tonya Stephenson, Carrie Drees, and Sue Armstrong. Shauna Buring represented Holmes at the Scott Tournament, while Stephenson, Armstrong, Schlarman and Furnish played in the regional singles and doubles tournaments. Tina Fredricks and Carrie Drees won their 1st round match in regional doubles play before falling.

"The players approached the game with determination, heart, and soul. We also had the element of surprise on our side. We beat teams we weren't supposed to beat," Coach Lynch remarked on his first girls' tennis team.

Pride Appears In Right Spots

"I was proud of the way the players let their pride come out when it counted," declared Coach Ken Spurlock when aksed about his '82 boys' tennis team. Coach Spurlock also said, "I was pleased that we had a winning season. The competition seemed especially tough in '82." On the whole, Coach Spurlock appeared pleased with his '82 team.

Pete Glenn, who played 1st singles and was a consistently good performer, was a major loss from last year. Pete also took 3rd place in the Scott Invitational and Coach Spurlock hoped to send a representative there this year, also. Along with Pete, John Drees had a fine year, while Bob Spenlau and Tyler Scott played very well at times, also.

The 1982 baseball team finished the year with a surprising record of 14 wins and 15 losses in regular season play because the Bulldogs only had one returning player, Mark Jump, from the 25-6 team of '81. Mr. Steve Bull, the assistant coach, stated, "When the pitching was good, we didn't have good hitting and vice-versa. Hopefully we can bring it all together in the '83 season."

New Head Coach Bull commented that some of his stronger players were Greg Thornsburg, Mark Jump, Rodney Hicks, Dwight Wells, and Randy Jackson. Greg and Dwight were two of the main players on the '82 ball club.

In tournament play, Owen County upset the Bulldogs, but at Boone County the Dogs lifted their spirits by winning 2 out of 3 games.

The boys' varsity track team tried to rebound this spring from a disappointing 1982 season that saw the Bulldogs fall to 0-4. The poor record was brought on by the majority of the 1981 team graduating. Still, the team performed consistently under the leadership of seniors Chris Hanks and Stephon Webb. Chris provided the highlight of the year by setting a school record in the 300m. low hurdles with a time of 41.3 seconds. He then went on to the regional meet, along with 8th grade standout Donnie Cheatum.

"This year will basically be a building year. We have people who have the potential to go downstate and some surprises," remarked Mr. Gruelle on this season. This year's team was more experienced, with 44 of 46 members returning and a conference champion freshman team moving up. Don Overstreet and Logan Behanan were two standouts on the '82 team.

"Very consistent, always performing at their potential," is how Miss Miller described her '82 Lady Bulldogs. The relay teams did exceptionally well all year, right into the regionals, where they placed 3rd in each of the 400, 800, and 1600 relays. Sophomore Vonda Jump provided most of the excitement to win the Lady Colonel award at the Dixie Invitational, while losing only two races during the regular season.

This year's Lady Bulldogs showed even more potential. With all but two runners returning from last year's squad, they had good varsity experience and hoped to improve greatly. Behind the leadership of seniors Vonnie Aker, Theresa Chaffer and Terri Krohman plus distance standouts Vonda Jump and Diane Mersch, the Lady Bulldog runners looked for a very promising season.

A Higher Goal

Softball Coach Julie Aker wasn't disappointed in her girls in '82, but she feels they could've done a lot better with a tougher offense—something she planned to stress this year. They ended the '82 season with a 19-6 record.

The most important game of the '82 season was during the Regionals when the girls were one game away from the title and were defeated by Notre Dame. It was a big letdown because they had beaten Notre Dame Academy in the regular season.

For the first time, beginning this season, there was a state softball tournament. Having lost only two players, a lot of the talent from last year returned, which came in handy in the chase for the title. Coach Aker commented, "Every year we have girls who strive for the Regional, so now, with the goal to win the state, they will really be competitive."

Practice And Play Pay Off

Last year's leading linkster, Kerry Chapman, led with a 43 stroke average. "With his ability he probably could be one of the top ten (golfers) in Northern Kentucky this year. All it takes is practice and determination to be #1," predicted Coach Ungruhn. Sr. Scott Patton ended his high school golfing career with a 50 average. However, his determination and love for the game of golf, showed when he played the first half of the season with a cast on his broken wrist. Another senior, Glenn Fossett, also helped the team with his 45 average.

"This year's team worked hard. In the game of golf you need to keep your spirit up throughout the game. You don't want to beat yourself. They wanted to improve themselves, and they worked hard to do it," commented Coach Ungruhn.

"Just luck, I guess," sighs Ron Moore.

BUILDING THE SCHOOL YEAR

ACTIVITIES

Spirit Greets Homecomers

On September 10, 1982, six couples waited anxiously to hear who would be royalty. King & Queen were Sheila Cruey and Tyler Scott, 1st runners-up were Vonnie Aker and Jeff Howe, and 2nd runners-up were Jimmy Bays and Leslie Hurst. Other candidates were Kevin Steuart, Darlene Moore, Mitch Raisor, Janet Flesch, Kerry Chapman and Sandi Cecil. The marching band played "What I Did For Love" throughout the traditional ceremony. The Homecoming Parade, Spirit week, and dance were successful.

A week of spirit-filled activities during Snowball celebration melted away the chill of winter until at last the highlight of the week, the homecoming basketball game, arrived. Under an arch of swords presented by ROTC's honor guard, last year's Snowball King and Queen, Jim Bays and Mindy McDavid, crowned the 1982-83 royal couple, Tyler Scott and Vonnie Aker. First runners-up were Angel Shirley and Mike Beal, with Tracy Studor and John Simms second runners-up. Spirits were dampened slightly by Holmes' loss to Conner 72-70.

Senior Dinner Dance

It was the kind of night you wouldn't send your dog out in. The mercury for the first time that fall dipped down into the twenties, and the wind was strong enough to rip the shingles off a building. Down on the Ohio River it was damp, and the winds were gusting even stronger. So, you ask, why were 180 Holmes seniors out on a night like this, and worse yet—why were they on the Ohio River? For the Senior Dinner Dance, of course!

The band played such golden oldies as "When the Saints Go Marching In" and "Roll Out The Barrel" as the Johnson Party Boat, the Chaperon, stuffed with seniors, pulled away from the dock at 8:00 p.m. on Nov. 12, 1982. Dinner was served around 9:00 as everyone lined up to receive their dinner of chicken, scalloped potatoes, peas and pearl onions, iced tea, rolls and German chocolate cake.

Following dinner, the dancing began again, and seniors rocked until the boat docked at 11:00 after an exciting trip up the Ohio River and back.

Although the evening's weather left much to be desired, most seniors reported that they had had an evening to remember.

Stephanie Yung and Jim Finkenstead ready their plates to begin eating.

Mrs. Harper (Susan Sims), Abby Brewster (Laura Eubanks), and Rev. Harper (James Gilligan) converse peacefully over coffee.

As Jonathan Brewster (Joe Ashcraft) lies unconcious after a struggle with the police, officers O'Hara (Sandy Burkhart) and Klein (Jim Wardell) tell the wrong people to freeze and scare poor Officer Brophy (Joe Paolucci).

Teddy Brewster (Tom Tuttle) sounds his trumpet as he charges up the steps on his horse impersonating Teddy Roosevelt.

Dr. Einstien (Bill Hensley) and Jonathan Brewster (Joe Ashcraft) plan for Jonathon's operation while Abby Brewster (Laura Eubanks) and Martha Brewster (Kristi Eiler) listen in.

Kristi Eiler and Sue Sims prepare for curtain.

The scene is utter chaos. Somewhere, someone is yelling, several others are arguing and an even larger group is doing various stretches and groaning loudly in the center stage. The whole group, preoccupied with their own thoughts, seems a million miles away. Then, from out of the shadows, steps a small but surprisingly strong woman. She sprinkles the group with stardust and unites them all with a single, invisible satin thread. Just one word unites them into an impenetrable group: "curtain!"

The tension slowly mounts for six weeks until the big day arrives. All cast members' stomachs are atwitter and none can concentrate on their classwork. Meals are skipped, and a pitiable weakness results.

That night, the havoc is ten times worse than at any practice. Clothes litter the dressing room floors, make-up spatters walls and mirrors. Performers are having their own, varied forms of nervous breakdowns. All becomes calm again when, for the final time, the magic word, "curtain", is uttered—or, in this case, bellowed. The group works as a well-oiled machine, and for a short time those on stage live out their fantasies.

Elaine Harper (Tammy Canaday) and Mortimer Brewster (Robert Dunaway) discuss their marriage plans.

"Marching 100 Performs Best Show Ever"

Polished drums brighten halftime as percussionists Jay Szabo, Tom Storer and Mark Riley perform the drum solo.

The excitement of the Ashland band contest overcomes Tracey Carlin as she catches a short nap between destinations.

The 1982-83 "Marching 100" left the field in November carrying loot of plaques and trophies with them. Under the new directors, Mr. Doug Johnson and Ms. Minda Thompson, the band traveled to five competitions, returning with three third place trophies, one second place trophy and several divisional trophies. "I think the band played better and had a better show than any year I've known before," noted Mr. Johnson, "and with the enthusiastic parent support we have, I think next year will be a big success."

Next fall, the band plans to hold its own first-ever Holmes competition. "The Holmes Castle Marching Classic" will take place in our new sports complex and will present a trophy to the best band in the region as well as certificates of participation to every member of each band.

After football season reaches its end, another important branch of Holmes Band begins work. The '83 Concert Band had a busy schedule of two concerts, a spring contest, individual competitions, and new member recruiting.

Several outstanding players competed in regional and state competitions. Twenty eight members attended the regional solo & ensemble contest, eleven members were seated in regional select band, and two members, James Wardell and Erica Messmer, received the coveted honor of playing in All-State Band.

The band remained active throughout the year as the excellence required in music in all its aspects is a never-ending pursuit.

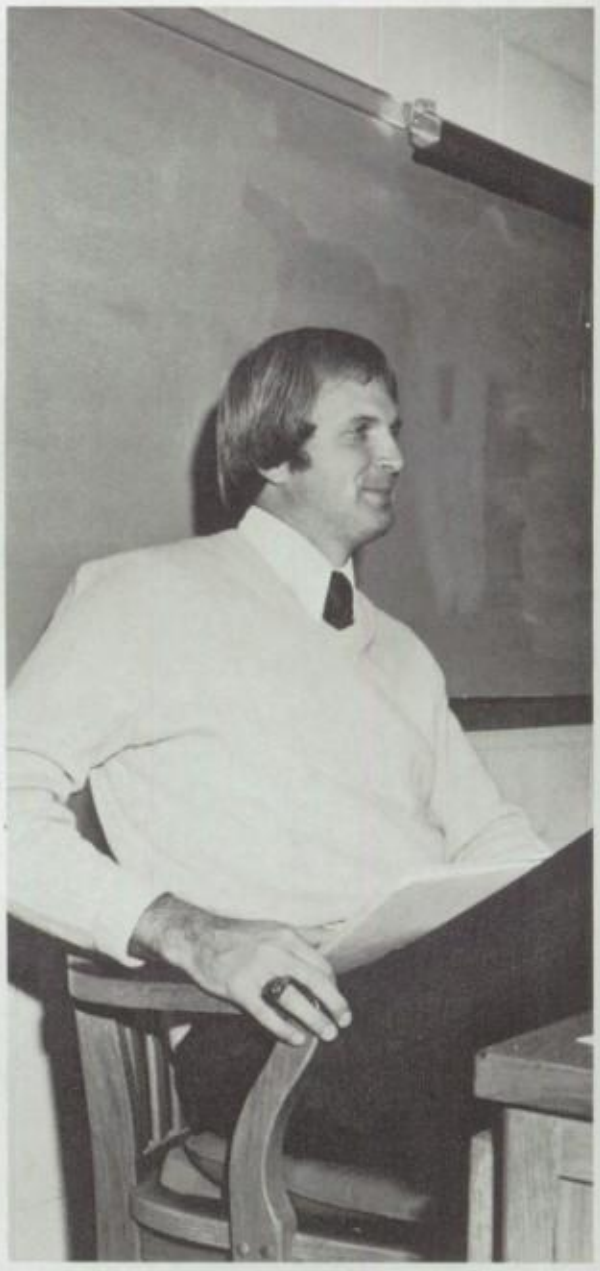
Working For Lucky 13

Advisor Ken Spurlock pauses from his work to listen to one of the more humorous stories submitted for the contest.



A THOUGHT

The advantage of being an artist
IS
That no matter what you create—
Whether it's a poem,
a painting
or a symphony—
And no matter if it's great
Or nothing at all,
You know it's yours.
Nobody else could have done it
Just that way!

Daniel A. Wood

(Poems From Past Issues)

THE 1980's

Through these halls I walk alone
Remembering days that have passed,
The cheerful sound of students' feet
Running into the class.

All those memories have faded away
Of that little room down the hall,
Which used to be filled with students,
But now there's nobody at all.

This hall is full of darkness,
Enough to give a scare,
The lonely sound of my footsteps
Echoes through the air.

Walking out of this building,
The only thing I see
Is a long and lonely hallway
Looking right back at me.

This year's captain, senior Donna Powell, was aided by her co-captains junior Lisa Ball and senior Sandy Burkhart. The group had to learn a whopping six routines this year to the tunes of "Super Freak", "Give it to me, Baby" and "Making It", among others.

Like most other school organizations, the group also worked hard to raise funds. Selling "Bulldog" buttons was one of their many successful projects.

Cheerleaders are the backbone of school spirit. They are a vital part of football and basketball games. They bring the crowd together, uniting them in the common bond of team pride. We are lucky to have such a fine, outstanding and involved group of girls here at Holmes.

Holmes has sponsored for many years four cheerleading squads of approximately eight girls at different levels—varsity, junior varsity (reserve), freshman, and eighth grade groups.

The active squads were sponsored by hard working teachers who helped organize fund raising projects and push the "spiriters" to strive for excellence. They were: Varsity—Connie Craven; Reserve—Brenda Buttolph; Freshman—Linda Butz; 8th—Linda Sullivan.

Reserve Cheerleaders—Bottom: Diane Mersch, Trish Bullock, Joan Hornbeck. Top: Angel Shirley, Missy Wendling, Kim Terrell.

Growing Choir Looks To Build

The choir is one group that continues growing in popularity. This year the choir increased its male voices, especially. Our three choirs include the Freshmen Choir, composed of 9th graders, Senior Choir made up of tenth through twelfth graders and the Select Choir, made up of "select" members from the other two.

During this busy year, they gave special performances at Florence and Crestview Malls, Old Town Plaza, Main Strasse, the Teachers' Dinner at Town & Country and at school. Members also had the chance to earn individual honors at a Solo & Ensemble contest at NKU and a choir competition in May at Kings Island.

Officers Perform Class Chores

This year's senior class officers have organized, and then some. President Tyler Scott, Vice President Greg Singleton, Treasurer Beth Jones and Secretary Lucretia Dunaway worked together well as a team. They had to campaign through newsletters to Senior homerooms instead of with speeches. Then the election results were announced at the Sr. Dinner Dance.

This year's officers organized the Battle of the Bands in the fieldhouse. They also co-sponsored a blood drive along with National Honor Society and Sr. Student Council. The officers also strongly opposed the new Holmes Hi-Jinks. They felt the Hi-Jinks went against the tradition of the old Senior Variety Show. The officers felt the old format with two different shows should be revived in the future.

When you're a junior, you are suddenly met by many responsibilities. For the officers it's hectic, to say the least, trying to plan (find a place) and decorate for the prom. In addition to this chore, juniors are also expected to help out with participation in the "Holmes Hi-Jinks," a variety show featuring both junior and senior talents. Juniors, under the direction of class sponsor Mrs. Fran Schulz, are hoping for a successful year and are doubtlessly looking forward to "seniorhood."

Councils' Efforts Effective

The main purpose of Senior Student Council is to promote student involvement and school spirit. Among the many activities sponsored, the most successful were the Homecoming parade, Football and Basketball Homecoming, and the Valentine's Dance, which involved the greatest percentage of the student body compared to any other activity.

Instituted into the Council this year was a communications officers. By posting activities in the glass bulletin case and publishing a newsletter for Student Council Representatives, a better means of communication between students developed.

Mrs. Norvell, Student Council sponsor, felt this year's officers were more dedicated than ever. While meeting three times during the summer, they prepared for Homecoming and the other responsibilities in Student Council activities.

The Junior Student Council was also very active and dedicated. This year's officers were president Angie Bennett, vice president Cindy Evans, secretary Denise Hampton, and treasurer Noel Stenger.

Junior Student Council's activities included buying three table-top video games for the Jr. gym for use during lunch, holding a car wash, sponsoring the Halloween Faculty Costume Day, Victory King and Queen contest and a "Turkey of the Month" contest, in which a gift certificate for a turkey was given away.

Always Building Character

The 1982-83 Senior National Honor Society was very active. The society sold Homecoming mums and operated a coat check at all home basketball games. It worked Frisch's Career Day, where members waited and bussed tables and clowned to entertain the children. At Thanksgiving they collected money and canned goods for needy area families. They also helped arrange and conduct Honor Night in May. NHS isn't all work, however. In April members go to the state convention for an overnight stay. They also go on a picnic at Big Bone Park for a day of fun.

NHS is a tough club to get into. To be a member, one has to be in the Academic or Academic Engineering track with a 95 or higher average, have a good discipline record and take part in extracurricular activities. A senior member needs a 90 or above average in any track and the other requirements. Potential members must also demonstrate the four NHS qualities of Character, Scholarship, Service, and Leadership.

Rick Caudill takes a tumble . . .

In its first year at Holmes, the ski club devoted its time to introducing the students to this enjoyable winter sport. The club's major activity was hindered because of lack of funds and lack of snow. However, the club did manage to travel to Indiana for one skiing excursion. Sponsor Mrs. Carolyn Jacobs' plans include organizing fund raisers and ski trips for the future of the club. The members hoped they had built a good foundation for skiing at Holmes.

Soccer Explodes on the Scene

1983 saw the formation of our new soccer team. Played on a field equal to the size of a football field, the game is played as a basic attack with ten players and one goalie. Requirements for the starting eleven players are shin guards and super stamina. Players must be able to survive through two grueling forty minute halves with a ten minute break and no time outs.

Most of the team members had never played soccer, so practice for the season began early in January with ample practice of juggling the ball, running and building speed and control. Both coach Young and coach Traw were pleased with the first year team's progress and are anxious to expand the program to its full potential in the near future. A full schedule was played this spring, and the soccer team planned to see more action in the fall, competing against several other area high school squads.

Organization and Staff Spell Success

Organization, merged with abled staffers, produced the '83 Lest We Forget. When work piled high and those dreaded deadlines crept closer, organization pulled the staff through until finally volume eighty-two was finished and is now in your hands.

Mr. Tucker, ten-year veteran advisor, commented, "Unlike many other activities, the yearbook staff gains the satisfaction of compiling an actual product. Also they receive satisfaction knowing that they are responsible for collecting the year's memories for Holmes' students, and that these students can hold these memories forever."

BUILDING INTERESTS

Fine Performances Continue

For four years now, Flats and Cues has been under the care of Mrs. Vicki Campbell—and it really shows! This dedicated woman has molded a fine award-winning troupe whose fall productions delight both students and alumnae alike. Her one-act competition plays, like "Words Upon the Windowpane" (1981) and "I Never Saw Another Butterfly," have distinguished her among high school drama coaches.

This year Flats and Cues presented "Arsenic and Old Lace" on November 19. For one act play competition, "The Devil and Daniel Webster" was performed at N.K.U. on February 19th. The group hoped to achieve honors like last year's and to go to the state-wide competition.

Mortimer Brewster (Robert Dunaway) attempts to prevent Mr. Gibb (Dan Stacey) from drinking the arsenic-laced elderberry wine.

Members Broaden Spanish Interests

Miss Richmond's thirty two Spanish club members have been kept quite busy. Field trips, guest speakers, and other activities filled this year's agenda.

On their four field trips, they saw a South American dance troupe, a play called "The Scorned Hat," a movie, "The Computer Who Wore Tennis Shoes," and, finally, they went out and ate lunch at Chi Chi's. They also had guest speakers come in and discuss their trips to Spain and Mexico.

Besides their field trips, they also threw a party for the children at the Opportunity School, a six year old tradition. In addition, they held their own language competition here for students, at all levels of their particular language. And for fun they also held a Scrabble and Uno tournament.

Viva La Club Francais

French Club: Tracey Meyer, Johnny Babb, Bob Pettit, Jim Fletcher, Cheryl Rom, Paul Gilligan, Lisa Stephens, Dan Stacey, Sandy Kennedy, Fred Jarman (seated).

In its tenth edition, Mr. Pete Krey's French Club was small but fun. Over the last few years, the club has had from ten to fifteen members. This year's twelve members enjoyed several happenings.

In April they went to Raymond Walters College to see a French movie. During club meetings the club played French card games, Scrabble and Monopoly. They also saw French filmstrips and movies and listened to French music.

This year's club also got to listen to actual French radio and T.V. broadcasts. With the help of the vocational school's new satellite receiving station, Mr. Krey took his club overseas to get a taste of real French.

A Club That "Clicks"

The Camera Club is an easy club to get into with no specific requirements; it's fun to be in, too. Although membership dropped by almost half this year, the dedicated members really (pardon the pun) "click" together. They meet during activity period to discuss photography's fun and major and minor problems. American history teacher Bruce Truitt has guided the club for eight years, since 1975. At publication time, the group and Mr. Truitt were undecided about field trips. However, they hoped to go on one to broaden their interests and ideas in the photography field.

Collecting Memories

If you have a collection of any kind, including rocks, marbles, comics or baseball cards, you might want to join the Collector's Club. Along with Sponsor Michael Young and approximately thirty members, you can have fun sharing your interests with other students.

The club meets every activity period, and a more select group meets on Friday afternoons trying to put together their own comics. This year they hope to publish their own book and possibly make it available nationally. A unique quality of this club is "Once you're a member, you're always a member." Even after graduation you may come back and participate in the club if you wish. The "semi-motto" of the club is, as sponsor Michael Young contributes, "Collectors always take the rubbish other people throw away."

Programming The Future

One of the largest and most interesting clubs is the Computer Club. The Computer Club's four big groups are open to all students willing to give up their activity periods to learn how to write their own computer programs.

This year, the group had four proud and enthusiastic sponsors, Mr. Ankenbauer, Mr. Day, Miss Fey and Mr. Goodeman. The main goal of the group is to make students aware of the tremendous impact of computers on all our lives and the possibilities open to them in the computer field.

4-H's Fifth H: Helping

4-H members pledge "My HEAD to clearer thinking, my HEART to greater loyalty, my HANDS to larger service, my HEALTH to better living for my club, my community, my country, and my world."

Another goal of this year's club was clearly Helping. Among their many projects, they went to area nursing homes and provided favors and company for residents. They also worked on the restoration of community parks, with Devou Park in the "Adopt a Tree" program and in a fashion show at the Florence Mall. As a reward for their services, this year's club will be going on a bike hike, they will spend a day at Kings Island and will attend the State 4-H Convention in Lexington.

4-H Club: Sponsor Trudy Eakle, Officers Crystal Commodore, Mary Gardner, Kim Callen, Jay Smiley.

"Peppers" Support All Sports

In a big change this year, the Pep Club no longer goes to just the major sports and becomes an extension of the cheerleaders. Instead, they concentrate more on helping the minor sports, such as wrestling and tennis.

When sponsor Miss Donna Trunnel was asked if her 25 "Peppers" had stuck to the new role, she replied, "Ten members came to the First Annual Holmes Wrestling Tournament and stayed all day to help." The members also make posters and help advertise and promote all athletic events.

This year the club sold "cheermits" and basketball pins to raise money for a future field trip. In closing, Miss Trunnel said the big goal of the club is to establish a scholarship for a club member each year.

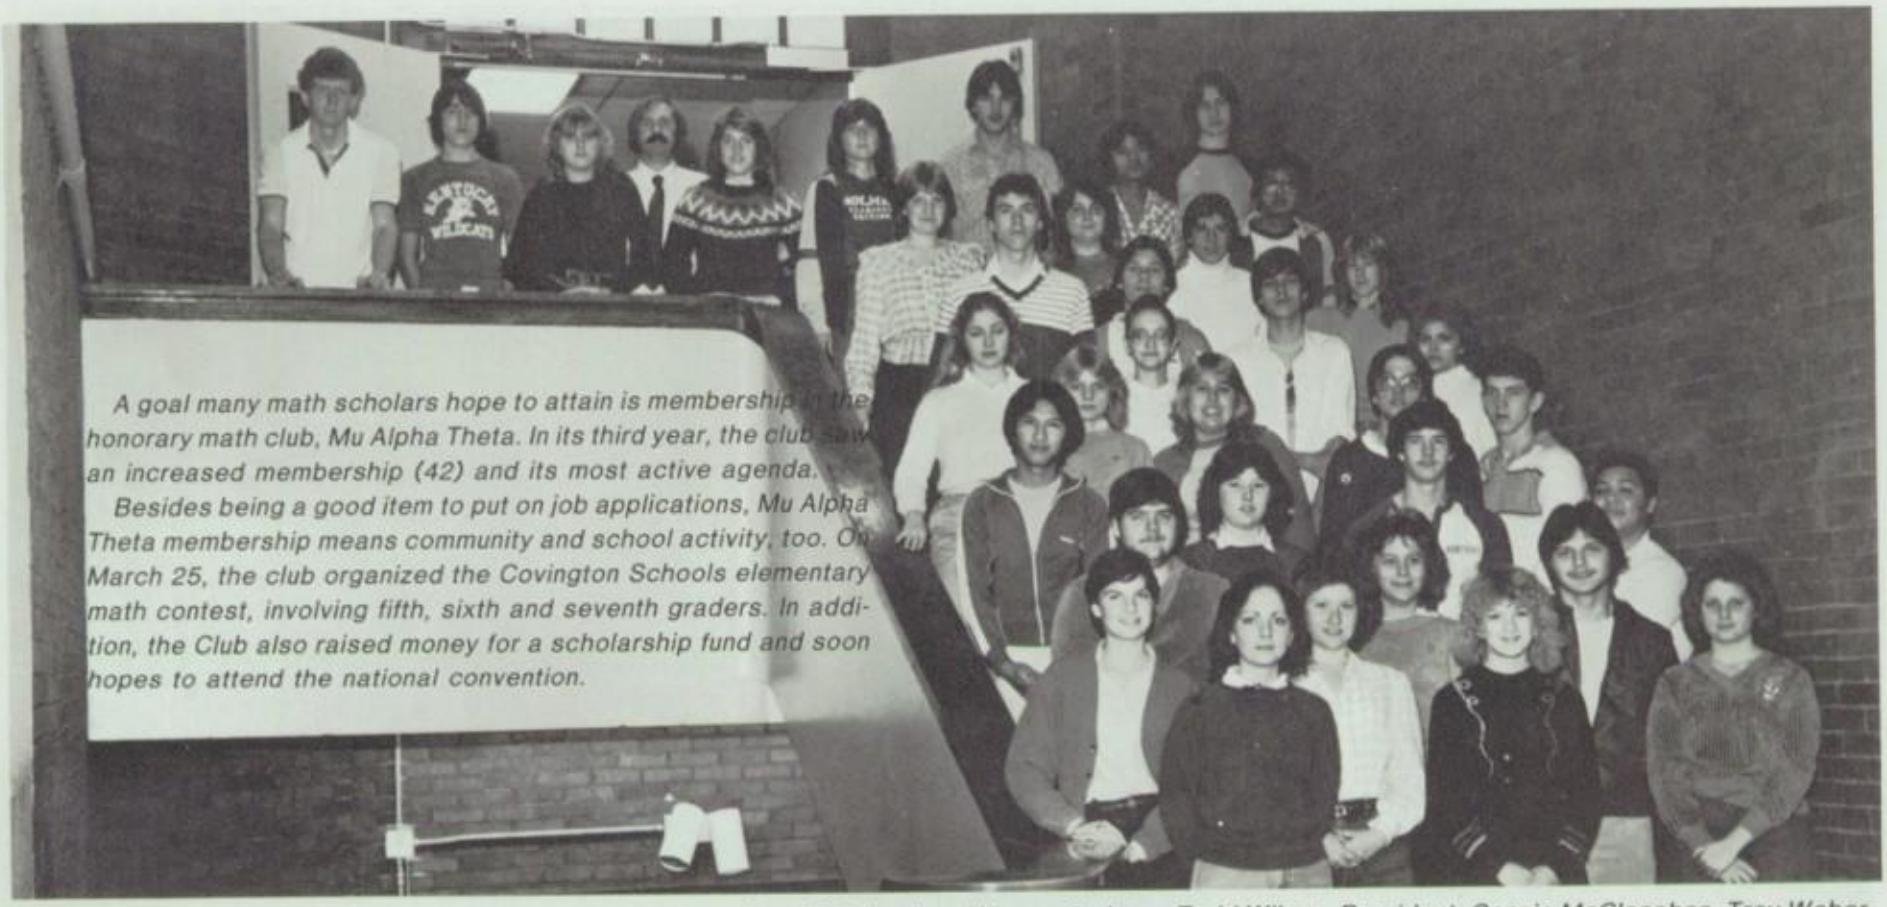
Mu Alpha Theta Expands, Improves.



A goal many math scholars hope to attain is membership in the honorary math club, Mu Alpha Theta. In its third year, the club saw an increased membership (42) and its most active agenda.

Besides being a good item to put on job applications, Mu Alpha Theta membership means community and school activity, too. On March 25, the club organized the Covington Schools elementary math contest, involving fifth, sixth and seventh graders. In addition, the Club also raised money for a scholarship fund and soon hopes to attend the national convention.

"A group of students interested in speaking and improving their interpretive skills", was the definition of the Speech Team given by sponsor Mrs. Vicki Campbell. The team itself is very complicated, competing in ten different events. These events are broadcasting, humorous dramatic literature, serious dramatic literature, boys' and girls' extemporary speaking, original oratory, poetry, prose and, finally, storytelling. In speech competition, the members of each event compete against people from other area schools in the same event at Northern Ky. University. If, at the competition, a person receives a superior rating, the person then qualifies for the state competition. In each of the last four years, Holmes has finished second in the region. This year they're looking forward to first place.

A stress on leadership, performance, pride in work, and community involvement are the qualities of a V.I.C.A. member. The (V)ocational (I)ndustrial (C)lubs of (A)merica is our largest club, having 130 members in divisions, including Air Conditioning, Auto Body, Auto Mechanics, Carpentry, Child Care, Drafting, Electricity, Electronics, Masonry, Welding, and Ham Radio. Each division has a president, and they make up the executive committee of the entire club.

The club often gets a chance to show their skills at and around the school. The Air Conditioning division repairs all the schools' air conditioners. Welding members worked on the bleachers in the new football stadium. The Electricity division repairs and maintains all audio and video equipment for the entire school district.

To raise money, the club members sold calendars and built a "Haunted House" for Halloween. The members also participated in special skills contests proving their ability. And in the past two years the club has won over 20 regional championships and also had 8 state winners.

Dr. Roger Childress introduces the guest speakers at the dedication of the new Holmes Football Stadium.

"Serving Education for 20+ years"

Board Continues Progressive Policies

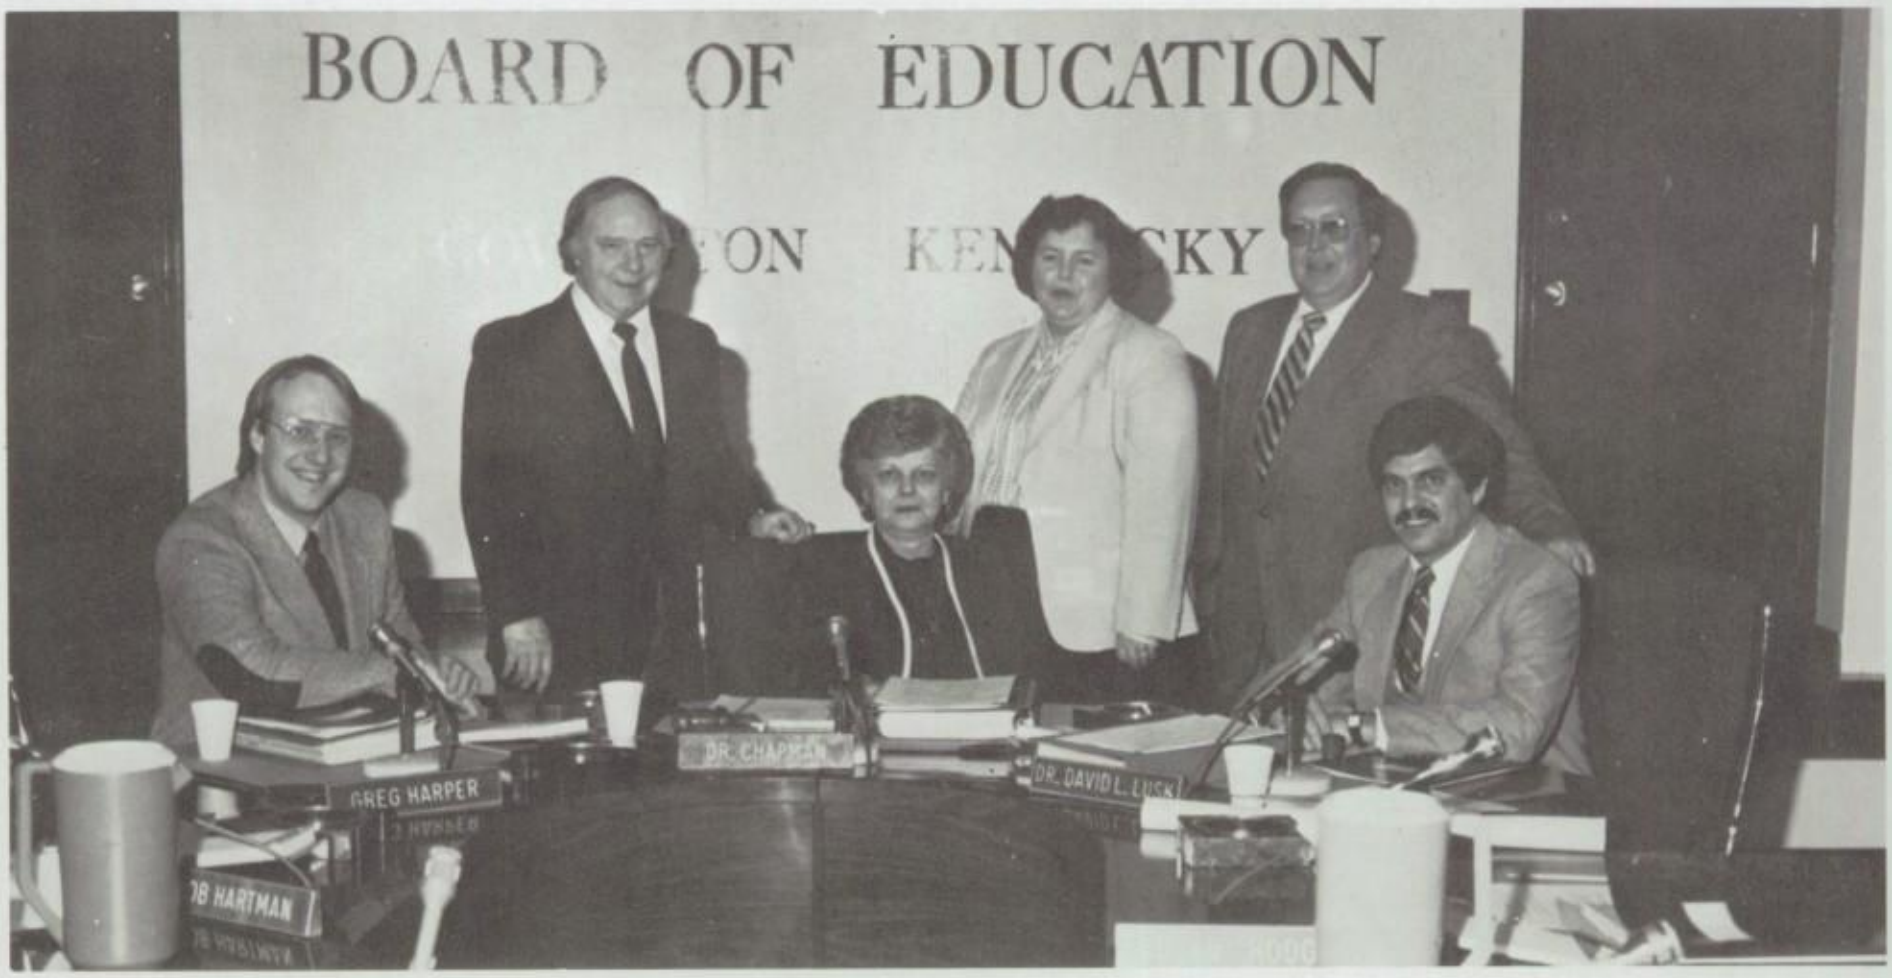
The Covington Board of Education, headed by Superintendent David L. Lusk, continued its progressive improvement program for all our city schools. The improvements could be specifically seen in our high school in several areas.

Dr. Lusk feels the highlights for the 1982-83 school year were the implementation of the Competency Testing for Graduation policy, the completion and dedication of the Community Sports & Recreational Complex, the new Marine Corps Junior R.O.T.C. program, and the new computer program. These, among many others, are the successful activities planned from over the past few years.

The board hopes to continue this varied improvement program, especially concentrating on refining the competency testing program. Holmes is also slated for an observation and accreditation visit next year by members of the State Board of Education. With our board's progressive programs, satisfying the state's high standards should be easier.

Members of the Covington Board of Education and several other dignitaries, including Lieutenant Governor Martha Lane Collins (right), listen to words from Mike Gottfried of U.C. during the sports complex dedication.

Board members Dr. David Lusk, Dr. Joe Gastright and Mr. Ron Peace hear one of many proposals during a meeting.



Board Members: Mr. Greg Harper, Mr. Robert Hartman, Dr. Virginia Chapman, Mrs. Susan Hodge, Mr. Ron Peace, and Dr. David Lusk

Bookstore is Beehive of Activity

Bookstore aides Mr. Ben Hemingway, Nancy Day, Tammy Womble, and Jay Szabo.

The bookstore is one of the busiest places in the entire school. Ben Hemingway, the school's business manager, is in charge of the bookstore. Mr. Hemingway's aides this year, Tammy Womble, John Szabo, Nancy Day and Brenda Moeller, are an essential part of the store. They make it a smooth, efficient business.

The jobs the aides do cover a wide range of activities, including selling supplies, making ID's, taking deposits for school clubs, sports, etc. and entering any and all data into the school's Apple Computer. The biggest jobs of the bookstore aides, however, are receiving and then delivering packages from UPS. They also get to distribute and later collect all texts for the school each year. The bookstore is, and has been, doing a good job and should continue the same way in the future.

Keeping Watch in the Halls

The Jr. Division hall aides serve the entire school in several important ways. The students pick up absentee slips for homeroom and all periods, run errands for teachers, look for outsiders who don't belong in the building, and report strange occurrences or faults they find in the school.

With all of these responsibilities, Miss McDonald needs quite a few aides, and this year they were short on aides with only 17. Requirements for hall aides include having above a "C" average and a good discipline and absentee record. If an aide receives below a "C" one quarter, he is on probation until he brings that C up. In general, as Miss McDonald contributed, "They do important services for the school."

Workers Keep Decor Shining

Mrs. Valarie Race chats while preparing for the 10:30 lunch rush.

Several new food specialties and a brightly decorated cafeteria contributed to the more relaxed atmosphere in the cafeteria. The dieticians added tacos to the menu and for one week celebrated the art of Chinese cuisine with Chinese specialties, paper decorations, and an added touch with the ladies' Chinese costumes. During the hectic lunch hours, work experience students kept the cafeteria neat, clean and running smoothly.

All in a Day's Work

Custodians and installers work over the summer on building improvement projects.

Mrs. Marilyn Davis poses beside the painted crest adorning the center of the cafeteria.

Mr. Charles Fugate, head of the custodial staff, keeps a very dedicated group of workers. All are constantly busy, taking care of the largest high school in Kentucky. During '83 some of their manifold tasks included painting and renovating minor repairs as well as cleaning and waste disposal. They are a necessary and vital part of Holmes High School. They deserve respect for their efforts because, just like anyone else, they make our stay at Holmes High School much more pleasant. Hug a janitor today!

Custodians—sitting: John Newton, Ed Corman, Walter Stickrod, David Martin. Standing: Susan Durstock, Milton Tritsch, Ralph Grimm, LeRoy Jackson, Tim Dailey, James Cavitt, Clarence Jones, Floyd House, Fred Penick, Larry Bolton, Roy Corman, Bennett Rice, Johnnie Mae Lewis, Dorothy Capito.

Dedication Shown Through Responsibilities

Sr. Counselor Aides—Row 1: Dorothy Prickett, Laura Eubanks, Jennifer Powers, Samantha Stracener, Ernestine Perkins. Row 2: Tracey Ochs, Tracey Jacobs, Chipp Lewis, Terri Krohman, Teresa Baumgardner, Kim Gross. Row 3: Sandy Lenhof, Lisa Miles, Renee Railley, Rene Daniels. Row 4: Susan Sims, Jamie Hurst, Brenda Logan, Jessie Clifton, Todd Wilson, Ken Martin, Tim Holland.

The counselors of Holmes High School have numerous responsibilities. Activities they schedule yearly include Competency Testing for juniors, College Night, Financial Aid workshops, Career Planning Program for sophomores, Honor Night and Career Day.

Multiple changes, one of which took place this year, was the continuation of all counselors to rotate with their grade level. An example of this is Mrs. Carolyn Jacobs, previously the junior counselor, who has been for the '82-83 school year the senior counselor. Another change was the scheduling of the CTBS testing, which was rearranged to reduce the disruption of classes.

Although counseling is very busy work involving many pressures and responsibilities, Mr. Ivn Bennett, sophomore counselor, feels it is a very rewarding job. He commented, "It is a challenge to use your life skills and years of education to help develop other's skills."

Mrs. Jacobs enjoys a telephone conversation between duties.

Mr. Ivan Bennett, sophomore counselor, discusses a student's career plans with a parent.

Mrs. Gloria Taylor keeps busy helping freshmen plan their courses.

Setting eighth graders nerves and gearing them for high school is counselor Mr. Tony Osborne's job.

Mr. Dick Poe catches a quick lunch break from his busy job of counseling the vocational students.

Service To Health

Keeping health records of all the students and faculty at Holmes and the elementary schools is Nurse Geniene McKinley's full-time job. With the help of her aides, Nurse McKinley spends her days organizing scoliosis screening, blood pressure clinics, fluoride programs, and blood donor drives. This year, particularly, Nurse McKinley worked with the National Honor Society in the Hoxworth blood drive. She also had to keep accurate shot records of both the students and faculty at Holmes, not to mention handling emergencies that might occur at any time. Nurse McKinley modestly stated, "I owe much of my organization to my aides. Without them, I wouldn't be able to offer my services for health".

Nurses Aides: Stephanie Yung, Ophelia Marks, Fred Jarman.

Helping Future Scholars

Library Aides: Front: Joan Hornbeck. Standing: Daniel Murray, Kelly McAdams, David Schadler, Kim Mastin, Robin Parsons.

Good study habits begin early, and in the junior high library, students this year had the opportunity to learn proper research skills necessary for high school level work. Mrs. Higgins, with the help of her aides, keeps an efficient library to help the young scholars.

The Bookworm's Retreat

Sr. Library Aides: Sitting—Greg Schwartz, Glenn Kampe, Joe Ashcraft, Connie Brashear. Standing—Darren Lewis, Candy Witherspoon, Michelle Abney, Jeff Simpson, Nate Behanan, Larry Lewis.

Librarian Mrs. Nancy Passarello works on managing the library's book expenses.

Senior librarian Mr. Lee Goodeman.

An efficient library is an asset to any school, and Holmes is fortunate to have an informative senior library. Under the direction of Mr. Lee Goodeman and Mrs. Nancy Passerello, the library serves as a vital resource center for the conscientious students. The library also served the pleasure readers, providing volumes of classic and modern novels for a perfect retreat for bookworms. Mr. Goodeman commented, "I have very versatile aides. They help make my job even more of a pleasure".

Mainsprings Keep It Ticking

Senior Division Principal Mr. Gene Dupin

Senior Division Secretary Mrs. Cindy McQuillan and Senior High Records clerk Mrs. Debbie Wight.

Behind the face of the Senior high, the workings of a fine machine hum in the always busy office. Just as the springs of a clock keep the instrument steadily ticking, so do the secretaries and their aides keep the senior high efficiently ticking. Secretary Mrs. Cindy McQuillan and Records Clerk Mrs. Debbie Wight acted as the mainsprings in handling the endless paperwork and organizing with a group of vital aides to perform the detail work and errands for Principal Gene Dupin.

It is obvious that without the efficiency of the "well-oiled" Senior office, the Senior high clock would not keep pace, but as it is, the office is right on time.

Records Clerk Big Help

Junior Division Principal Mr. Dick Howard

Junior Division secretary Mrs. Bonnie McClanahan types information for Mr. Howard

In her second year, Jr. Office receptionist-secretary Mrs. McClanahan said the only big change has been the addition of the record's clerk, Donna Hutsell, removing the large problem of keeping track of attendance.

Mrs. McClananhan's job now entails keeping the academic records of the Jr. Building. She also handles phone messages, visitors and assists Principal Richard Howard. Mrs. McClanahan said she really enjoys her job. "Working with aides really makes it an enjoyable job," she stated in closing.

Mrs. Hester: Busy But Happy

Discussing activities of the month are Mr. Robert Logsdon and Mrs. Margaret Young.

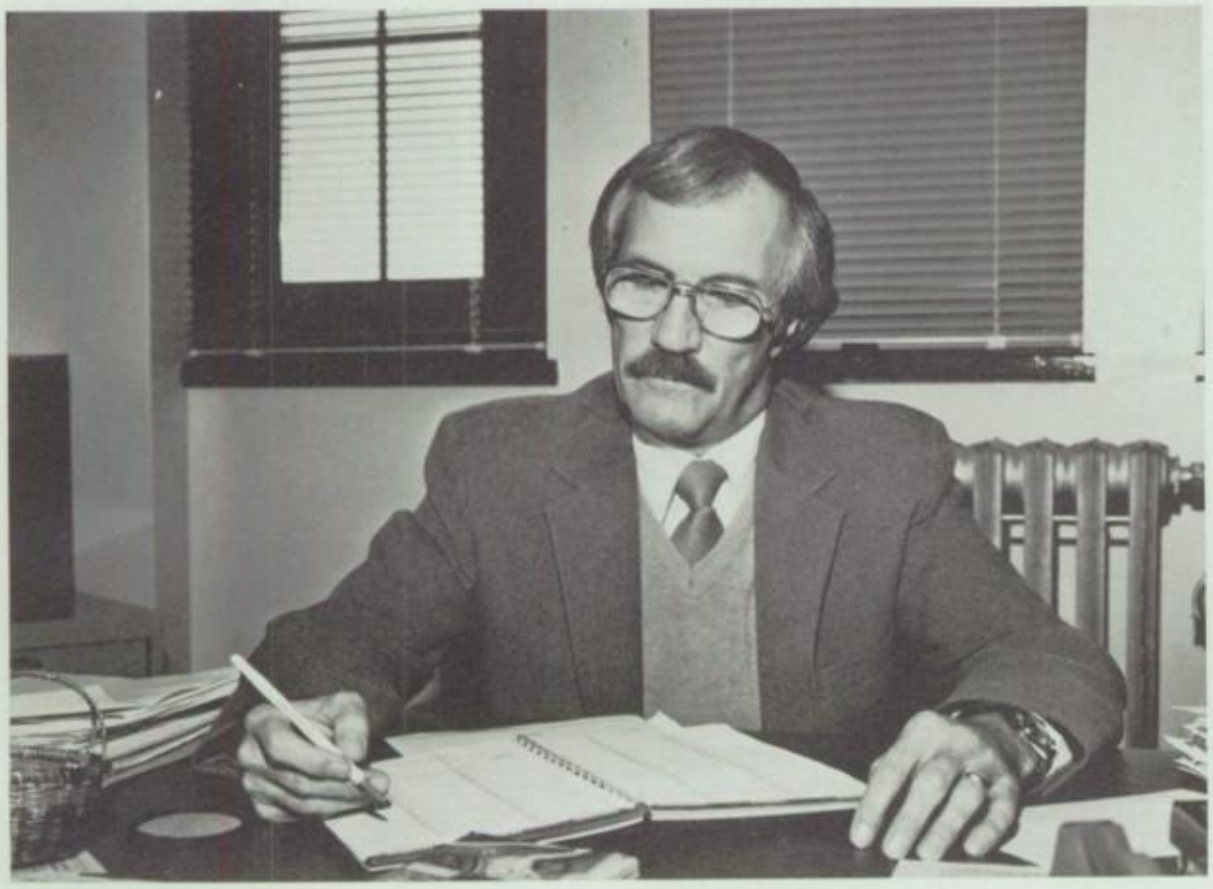
There have been many changes in the work in the Ad. Office since Mrs. Hester started nine years ago. She is now the receptionist-secretary for the entire school. Without such good student aides, it would not be possible to handle the phone messages, inquiries, visitors, students and teachers who come into the office all day.

Mrs. Margaret Young busily keeps Mr. Logsdon's calendar of events up to date in the Athletic Director's office.

The Ad. Office is also where all incoming mail is sorted and then delivered throughout school. Also all outgoing mail goes through the office. The lost and found has also been moved to the Ad. Office, in the hope that this has been a help to the students. Mrs. Hester stated about the Ad. Office that, "It's a busy but very enjoyable office."

Mrs. Hester takes a short break to comtemplate the thoughts of working late or going home.

Combined Efforts Aid In Tough Times



Dr. Roger Childress looks over his calendar for the day.

Mrs. Becky Warnke starts out her day with a bright smile.

Mrs. Becky Warnke, with the help of co-ed students and student aides, has been tackling the awesome task of being Dr. Roger Childress' secretary for two years. She alone keeps the in-service records for teachers, prepares the Friday Bulletin (Dr. Childress' special bulletin), and punches student identification cards. With the aid of her co-op students and aides, she is able to keep the curriculum room straight, the phones answered and the school in order.

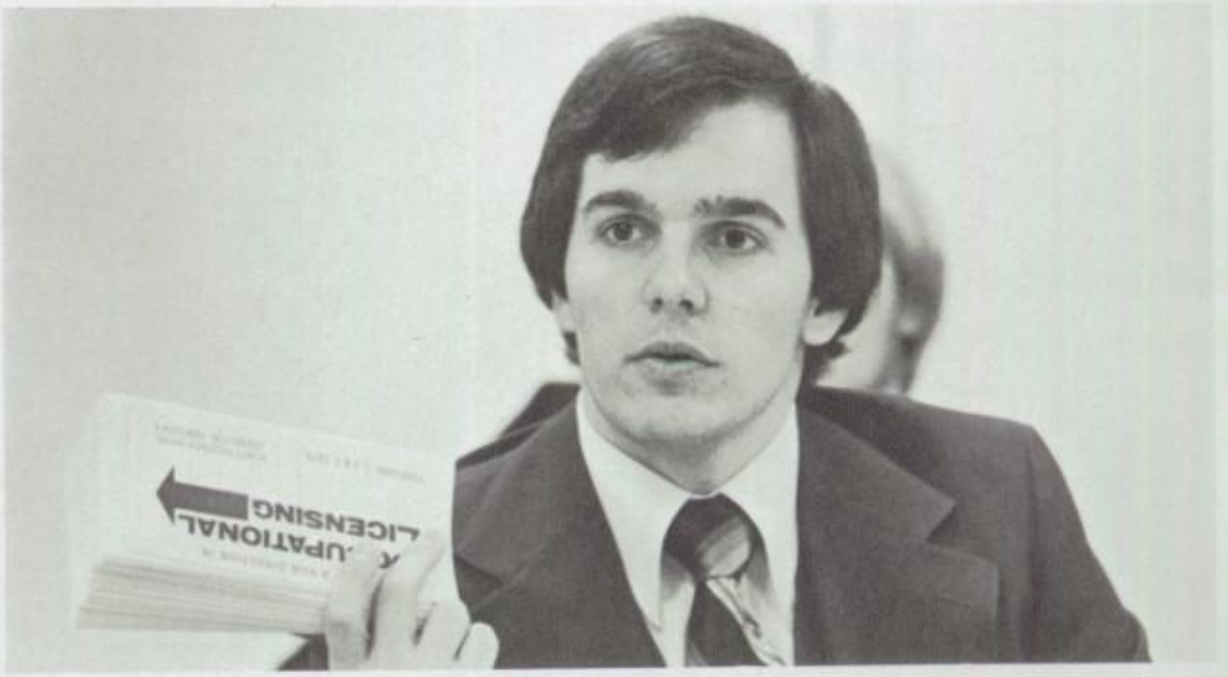
This year she was subjected to added responsibility during the extensive hospitalization of Dr. Childress. With a combined effort of aides, co-op students and Mrs. Warnke herself, they managed to run the Executive Principal's office efficiently until his return in January.

Making the Job Easier

The Chapman Vocational Center, established on Holmes' campus in 1980, has developed a new concept in vocational learning.

Vocational Office Aides: Ron Davis, Roxanne Hicks, Regina Moore, Lisa Paxton, Eddie Manning, Shane Lockard, Tony Crump, John Watkins, Amber Hoffman, Doris Allen.

Mrs. Julie Cramer, secretary in the Vocational Office, works recording each vocational student's background information.



Chapman Vocational Principal Mr. Terry Mann discusses vocational procedures at a board meeting.

Vocational office duties include maintaining the Xerox room, answering the phone, typing, handling all public relations for the vocational office and handling all of the responsibilities for the counselors and principals. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Cramer, along with seven aides, accomplish these tasks effortlessly.

Daniel Webster (Robert Dunaway) speaks before the ghostly jury for the defense of his client, Jabez Stone.

The excellent Holmes High "Flats and Cues" have done it again! For the second year they ranked as finalist in the State Drama Festival held annually at the University of Kentucky. Last year this special and devoted group competed at the state level with the award winning "I Never Saw Another Butterfly." This year the group of 20 again charmed the judges at the Regional level with their presentation of "The Devil and Daniel Webster." Among the top 10 actors and actresses mentioned were the four leads in this order: Rhonda Conley placed eighth as Mary Stone; Joe Ashcraft sixth as Jabez Stone; Bill Hensley, fourth as the Devil; and Robert Dunaway received third place as Daniel Webster and a fully paid 4 year Scholarship to Northern Kentucky University. Way to go gang!

Cable Opens New Eye On School

Laura Tilley runs cable station with the help of her aids, Jay Szabo and Ed Schadler.

Students enjoy viewing their finished products.

Laura Tilley closely examines a completed video tape.

Cable T.V. began this year at Holmes and was very instrumental at capturing the year on video tape. Through the new program, students learned how to run T.V. cameras, check sound levels, etc.

Last fall, selected students combined efforts to produce two documentaries on the Vietnamese war and its effects immediately following the war and now. They were broadcast nationally on C-Span and were proclaimed a "revolutionary action in student cable production involvement". The cable personnel hope, with financial aid from the city of Covington and from Storer Cable Co., to expand to an even more efficient studio.

Lenny Faulkner operates one of the cameras.

John Morgan (artist in residence) and Laura Tilley make ready to begin taping.

John Morgan checks sound levels while Laura Tilley films the action.

Juniors Entertain The Masses

Every year (in the past) the junior class has presented their very own, special show called the Junior Review. It has always been enjoyed immensely by both participants and viewers. Although not many skits were featured as in past ones, spectators enjoyed the wide variety of '83's musical performances, from Lisa Weatherford and Beth Jones' "You Needed Me" to the sleazy, upbeat "Hey Big Spender" sung by Kristi Eiler.

Cathy Shelton and Sandy Burkhart enjoy performing a bit of slapstick for the review.

Kristi Eiler belts out "Hey, Big Spender."

James Powers pounds out the tempo for the grand finale.

Hi-Jinks Combines Traditional Shows

The Hi-Jinks chorus line concluded the show with their grand finale "New York, New York".

Lisa Weatherford listens as Beth Jones sings her version of "I Can't Say No" from the musical Oklahoma.

The Bunny Group, Donny Roberts, Cheryl Rom, Rod Eversole, Lisa Stephens, and Dan Stacey demonstrate in their song that "You Can't Hurry Love".

Members of the Hi-Jinks Go-Gos, Mary Ann Berry, Sandy Burkhart, and Sebrina Lovensheimer show that they "got the beat".

R.O.T.C. Builds Leaders

R.O.T.C. members march at halftime of the Homecoming game.

Officers of R.O.T.C. salute candidates Tyler Scott and Vonnie Aker.

Leaders are not born, they're made, and this is what the Holmes High School Marine Corps Jr. R.O.T.C. program is all about. Beginning this year, making our future leaders has been the job of Major Hugh Bass and Master Sergeant Don Snell, both Vietnam veterans.

For the program's first year, it has been running well. The program teaches students all the basics of the military, from how and when to salute, to how to wear a uniform, (which they wear during school one day a week) to how to handle rifles. R.O.T.C. members learn all the different ranks, how to read a map, and other Marine tasks.

Members also have several special teams they can become involved in. Depending on a person's preference, one can become a member of the drill team, rifle team or even colorguard.

Since the R.O.T.C. is only in its first year, it can only get better. With this year's great success and any continued interest, the Holmes High School Jr. R.O.T.C. program should be a fixture here for many years to come.

By December, over 280 juniors had paid their class dues, over 50%, and that had class sponsor Mrs. Fran Schulz very pleased. She feels that it gets harder and harder to get students involved each year, but is genuinely glad she received such cooperation from students as well as faculty members in her first year as sponsor.

A class activity card enables students of the junior or senior classes to participate in activities such as the "Holmes Hi jinks" (a Jr./Sr. variety show), and the Jr./Sr. Prom.

Class officers for the year were: President, Vonda Jump; Vice President, Sonja Smith; Treasurer, Diane Barker; Secretary, Tammy Lawson; and Historian, Regina Beasley. Projects for this summer include work on the banner, and Mrs. Schulz wants to have the Sr. Class officer election before school closes this year.

Never try to find Sophomore Vickie Holtman for an interview before, during, or after school. She could be in the fieldhouse practicing volleyball, boasting a spot on the reserve team for two years. However, you might also take a look on the tennis courts. She had to practice for her second year on the team this past season. Also, after school on Mondays she sports a 123 avg. in the Holmes bowling league. Besides these varied athletic abilities, she is a homeroom representative for Sr. Student Council and tries to be as active as possible in that organization.

To touch, live with, or even look at snakes you have to love them. That's why Sophomore Tony Sholler has been catching and keeping them in his garage every summer since the sixth grade. From 1 foot garter snakes to a 5 foot water moccasin, he has kept and studied them all. However, the water moccasin was his favorite because it was "such a big risk keeping and handling it." Not only does he love snakes but everything about nature and the outdoors. His least favorite time of the year is winter because, "all of nature seems to go into hiding."

There's never a colorless spot in her day, literally. For Sophomore Lynda Schlarman a colorless object is like an Oreo without filling. She has been collecting rainbows in the form of ribbons, shoestrings, stationary, posters, pictures, stickers, shirts, sheets, and much more. "I had gotten into a rut and I needed something unusual or bright to freshen up my day. That's when I started my collection," says Lynda brightly.

Many other activities help her get into a more "colorful" mood, such as playing on the tennis team as a returning starter, playing flute in the marching band, contributing her part as a homeroom representative for Sr. Student Council, and writing news stories for The Holmespun.

To a 15 year old, tenth grade is one of the hardest times of his life, not only academically, but socially as well. A student has to leave the nest of the Jr. Building where he was the oldest and ruled the roost, and come to the Sr. Building where he is the baby of the bunch. He has to meet a whole new crowd of teachers and learn to be comfortable with them.

Even though a student is in the Sr. Building, this doesn't mean he has the same opportunities and activities juniors and seniors have. Sophomores lack a dance or prom and even a class sponsor. One of the hardest obstacles to overcome in this grade is its hard academics. A sophomore has to crack down and really start studying.

On the brighter side, tenth graders have some advantages, too. One of them, says Sophomore Vickie Holtman is, "You're treated like a normal, semi-mature human being instead of a little kid." This year all of the different sports and activities are open to sophs for the first time, and a tenth grader doesn't have to go through the dreadful, and practically impossible, changing of clothes in just 4 minutes from gym class. All in all, 10th grade is an enjoyable, new experience.

Spotlight: Beth McMichael

Beth McMichael, a freshman, likes school very much, mainly because of the people. She can only see many of her friends at school, but she doesn't go to school just for the good people. She has earned straight A's since her 6th grade days at Latonia Elementary.

Beth is a member of the Jr. It's Academic team, and she runs cross-country, lettering in both the 8th and 9th grades. In her limited spare time she relaxes by watching T.V. and collecting stamps. After high school she plans to attend college and major in either mathematics or science. With her full involvement and excellent grades, her plans should be easily fulfilled.

Spotlight: Charles Gary

A very famous and well known artist is what Freshman Charles Gary wants to be, and Charles is already well on his way. He is an accomplished comic book writer and illustrator. He began in the fourth grade and is still going strong after over two hundred books. Now he is mainly concentrating on illustrating since he has decided to become an artist.

Charles is very serious about becoming an artist. While illustrating his comic books, he became deeply interested in drawing. He plans to take mechanical drawing here. He then wants to go to college to pursue an art degree. He is pretty well set and pretty talented too, for his chosen field.

Spotlight: Stacey Eldridge

Freshman Stacey Eldridge keeps herself very busy. If she's not off cheering for a football or basketball game, then she's pre-occupied with her duties as Secretary of National Jr. Honor Society. Or she may be at her dancing and gymnastics class, which she attends once a week.

Stacey is also interested in the "behind-the-scenes" work done in T.V. shows and newspapers. She is learning to run a television camera through the new C-span programming operations here, under the direction of Ms. Laura Tilley.

What's it like to be a freshman? For many fourteen year olds, the answer was "tough." Fourteen year olds are stuck in the middle of two groups—they're too old to do "kid stuff" and too young to enjoy many Sr. High activities. Besides their social lives, freshman have it tough in class. With their first year of credited high school comes their first year to experience final exams.

In spite of these hassles, however, the Class of '86 decided not to spend the year sleeping. The Jr. High witnessed possibly the most active student body to pass yet through the portals of the Junior Building. Jr. Student Council, under the direction of Mrs. Linda Sullivan, involved the Jr. High in many special activities with the full support of the Jr. National Honor Society, sponsored by Mr. Stephen Heil. Many freshman supported all of the various school activities. Also freshmen took part in the freshmen sports—football and basketball.

It's a proven fact that when the going gets "tough", the tough get going. These active people couldn't stay stuck for long.

Bridgette, an eighth grader from Sixth District, is enjoying her first year here. She said, "At first Holmes scared me because of its size. I was afraid I couldn't find my way around. But now she says she really likes Holmes, with English and Miss Melhorn as her favorite class and teacher.

Bridgette's hobby is putting models together. She said, "Mostly I put car models together." Besides school and model building she likes collecting very big and realistic doll houses.

Glass pigs and stuffed animals are Terri Fancher's passion. Terri, an eighth grader from Glenn O. Swing, has been collecting glass pigs since she was three and now has two to three hundred of them. Her stuffed animal collection now numbers about 100. After high school, she plans to attend nursing school and then move to North Carolina.

Terri didn't like Holmes at first but she said, "After awhile it was all right."

This year Terri ran cross country for Coach Jim Woolridge. Terri said, "I really like cross country and it's fun." Terri said Coach Woolridge has helped her a lot. She hopes to run cross country under his coaching all through high school.

To an eighth grader, attending Holmes can be a very trying experience. In elementary school everyone knew everybody else, they knew their teachers and they knew their school. Once at Holmes these "rookies" are surrounded by new people and the new, huge school. They can't help but think, "Can I find my way around this place?" But after a few weeks, they get to know some new friends and teachers and the school becomes "Home Sweet Home."

The eighth grade year is relatively simple. Each student takes six required subjects such as history, gym, art and science. Mrs. Taylor, eighth grade counselor, said, "This year's students are adjusting well to their new school." Eighth grade is the largest group here by at least 100 students, and they produced the largest eighth grade honor roll in recent years. The twenty one A honor roll students were honored with juice and doughnuts, and all of them showed up to enjoy their treat.

The '82-83 eighth graders have some advantages over past eighth graders. A sound symstem in the Jr. Gym enlivened lunch. Eighth graders also seem to be involved more in school activities. When not in school, these newcomers like to go to the dances and football and basketball games. Aside from these school activities, their favorite pastime is going to movies. In the end, eighth graders are just beginning what will be one of the biggest, most important, happiest times of their lives.

After reading the 1982-83 LEST WE FORGET, I hope you have fully enjoyed its contents. The LEST WE FORGET staff and I consider it an honor and a great responsibility to compile the year's memories, from the most vivid events to those minute happenings that compose the year.

First of all, I would like to thank Mr. John Jones and everyone at Herff Jones Yearbooks for all their help and understanding.

Next, I would like to thank the following people for their assistance and encouragement—Employees of Osborne Photography Studio, Mr. Tom Bennett, Mr. Hemingway and his bookstore aides, The Holmespun staff, Mrs. Gerri Burkhart, the administration and faculty, our advertisers and subscribers.

Finally, I extend my personal thanks to my family for bearing with me, for my Mom and her elite typing skills and, of course, a sincere thanks to Mr. Tucker and the staff.

Editor-in-Chief
